

Welcome to Charles Sturt University!

Welcome to the School of Teacher Education!

My name is Tara Brabazon. I am the Professor of Education and the Head of School of Teacher Education. It is my pleasure and privilege to welcome you to what will be an incredibly special and productive time of your life. A university degree gives you a chance to transform your life and become your best self. It is our joy to help you on this journey through learning.

I wanted to make sure – right at the start of your academic year – that you have contact information for me. Contact me any time. I want to hear how you are going through the year. Never hesitate. Say hi.

I wish you every success in your studies. The keys to being successful as a student are commitment, motivation, imagination, care and compassion. But another characteristic of a successful student is building connections. Talk to your teachers. Talk with your fellow students. Also, never hesitate – contact me. My responsibility is to ensure that you not only have an outstanding time at Charles Sturt University and the School of Teacher Education, but that we enable great success in your professional life.

You will meet remarkable staff in our School. They will change your life. The key is to enjoy this experience and make sure that you take every opportunity that is made available to you. I am sure that 2016 will be YOUR YEAR.

With every best wish for your success in the School of Teacher Education at Charles Sturt University –
