This subject is facilitated by:
Professor Franziska Trede
Co-Director, The Education For Practice Institute, CSU

EEL513 offers an introduction to the theories and practice of workplace learning (WPL). It acknowledges that workplaces shape student learning to such an extent and in such different ways from academic environments that specific understanding of workplaces as learning spaces and WPL pedagogies is required.

Upon successful completion of this subject, students should be able to:

- demonstrate an understanding of the nature and scope of workplace learning
- critically discuss the role of WPL in higher education
- discuss the implementation and management of WPL
- critique contemporary WPL practices in the context of workplace learning theory and research
- identify and critique options for integrating academic and WPL curricula
- identify and critique options for enhancing their own WPL practices.

The subject will cover the following topics:

- The role of WPL in higher education
- Workplaces as learning spaces
- Situated and workplace learning theories
- Roles and responsibilities in workplace learning
- Preparing for workplace learning experiences
- Technology enhanced workplace learning
- Assessment in workplace learning
- Integrating academic and WPL curricula
- Debriefing and reflecting on WPL experiences.
